St. Joannicius, the Great;

The Holy Angels

According to our holy father Bishop Nicholai of Zica “Whom Christ loves, His angels love too.” As we read the Holy Scripture we see that Our Savior loved children, and ordered His angels to be their guardians. In Mt. 18: 10 we read the following: The angels do always behold the face of my Father, which is in heaven. Christ even identified Himself with little children saying: Whoever receives one little child like this in My name receives Me (Mt. 18:5). He threatened terribly those who mislead, scandalize and cause children to sin: It were better for him that a millstone were hanged about his neck, and that he were drowned in the depth of the sea (Mt. 18:6). He also said: Suffer little children to come unto Me for of such is the kingdom of heaven (Mt. 19:14). This is the very foundation of Christian education, that is, to let children come unto Christ. This is the reason the angels love and protect children.

The Fathers of the Church teach us that there are guardian angels of nations, countries, Churches, as well as of individuals (Rev. 2). Our venerable father John Climacus testifies of his personal guardian angel: “Whenever I was longing for a greater advancement in spiritual life, the angel appeared in such a case and enlightened me.”

With the celebration of the Synaxis-Assembly of all the Heavenly Hosts every Christian should remember his good angel, who for the span of all his life concerns himself with him, rejoicing in his spiritual achievements, and grieves over his downfalls. Remember that when a person dies, the angel takes his soul to God. Having found itself in the spirit world, according to many accounts, the soul recognizes its Guardian Angel.

The following is a short morning prayer to the Guardian Angel: Angel of God, my holy protector, given to me from heaven by God for my protection, I fervently beseech you enlighten me and preserve me from all evil, instruct me in good deeds and direct me on the path of salvation. Amen.
