Sunday of All Saints of Rus’ Ukraine and Ukrainian Martyrs in the Ukrainian Greek Catholic Church

This feast honors all the saints and martyrs native to the lands of Kyivan Rus’, the spiritual ancestors of the Ukrainian Church, as well as the modern martyrs who gave their lives for the faith, particularly during the persecutions of the 20th century.

The saints of Kyivan Rus’ include prominent historical figures such as Saint Volodymyr the Great, who baptized the people of Rus’ in 988, as well as early bishops, monastics like Saint Anthony and Theodosius of the Kyiv Caves, and countless holy men and women who faithfully lived the Christian life in Ukraine. This feast celebrates their lasting spiritual legacy and encourages the faithful to draw strength from their example.

Alongside these ancient saints, the day also commemorates the Ukrainian martyrs of the 20th century, including bishops, priests, religious, and laypeople who endured persecution and death for their steadfast faith during the Soviet era. The beatified martyrs—such as Blessed Mykolai Charnetskyi, Blessed Vasyl Velychkovsky, and Blessed Josaphata Hordashevska—are remembered for their heroic witness and sacrifice.

Liturgically, this feast features hymns and prayers that unite the faithful in honoring this rich heritage of sanctity and martyrdom, reminding all that holiness is a call extended to every generation.

Through this celebration, the UGCC renews its commitment to live the Gospel courageously, inspired by the saints and martyrs who laid the spiritual foundations of the Church in Ukraine.
